Temperance at Herzog's.

Hon. Thomas D. Worrell discussed the Bible argument, on the temperance question, before argument, on the temperance question, before a small audience in Liucolu Hall yeaterday afternoon. He said that the Bible did not probabilit the use of intoxicants, or rather wines, nor yet heer. It should be used moderately as medicine, not as a beverance. What the temperance people believed in was moderation. As a medicine it was as valuable as any other drug, but man should not use if like he does water. The practice of excessive dringing was not only morally wrong, but physically so.

In cheap goods, or rather in good goods at low prices? If you are, we can interest you this week. We have more stock than we need, and we want to convert it into money, and the quickest way to do that, as we have found by experience, is by putting the knife into prices. We make a few special offerings this week, but we have not space to mention half the bargains that we have on our counters. But you may be interested in some of the goods mentioned here. If you are not, don't be discouraged, but call and see us, and we will surely interest you.
